LET PEOPLE KNOW! JAMES W. GERARD URGES PARLEY

Bright Light of Publicity Is Best to Drive Out 'Slimy Snake of Self-Interest'

By JAMES W. GERARD
Former Ambassador to Germany
Copyright, 1921, International News Service.
Written Especially for International News Service.
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—It is to be hoped Secretary Hughes will not lose sight of the immense advantage given him by the open methods initiated at the first session of the conference.
The bright light of publicity will drive out the slimy snake of intrigue and self-interest.
The questions before the conference are to be decided by great peoples—who have as much right to hear the discussions affecting their future, their lives and their fortunes and those of their children and children's children as they have to public sessions of the courts—and it has long been considered in every land that publicity in court procedure spells justice.
Star chamber methods prevailed at Versailles. Let us have light in Washington.
Expect Some Agreement
Secretary Hughes' proposition is accepted in principle by Britain and Japan. Now comes the gnawing criticisms to the proposed amendments. Will those nullify the original plan? Probably not. We may take as settled that there is to be some agreement for a holiday in naval construction.
Meantime and while the delegations of America, Great Britain and Japan prepare preparations for the solution of the questions of the far east, the French delegates are at work on the problem of how they can best introduce their demands before the conference. Those demands are bound up with the question of Germany.
Personally, I think that the indemnity placed on Germany is far beyond the power to pay of that country.
France had nothing, has nothing, to fear from the kind of government now in power, or rather in office, in Berlin—that government is not militaristic and I believe that under such a government Germany would gradually be liberalized and become in thought and in political feeling somewhat like our own United States.
But a people, however industrious,

Honor List Behalf Salvation Army Is Now Being Started

The officials in charge of the Salvation Army Home Service campaign report that good progress has been made in the $2,500 drive to raise funds for carrying on the work of the organization. It is stated that 100 donors to the "$10 and Over Club" will be a feature of the drive. Arrangements have been made for checks or pledges to be mailed to Brigadier C. R. Boyd, Salvation Army Home Service Headquarters, Glendale, or to the First National Bank, or the Brand Boulevard Branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank.
First donors to the "$10 and Over Club" are Dan Campbell of the Glendale National Bank, D. H. Smith of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank, J. H. Braly, Roy L. Kent, L. A. Hart, Jesse E. Smith, R. E. Chase, C. L. Chandler, Thomas A. Wright, Glendale Laundry, Dr. M. B. Ketchum, Dr. J. E. Eckles, John A. Cole, Glendale Book Store, Valley Supply Company, Endicott & Larson, Barnes-Shuck Music Company, Neale & Gregg Hardware, F. P. Wilkin, and Ezra Parker.

great annual tribute to another nation like the slave nations depicted on the bas reliefs erected by Assyrian conquerors, and the tearing away of part of German-Silesia has given the militarists of the old system a peg on which to hang their helmets—an excuse to stir up hatred, revenge and the spirit of war.
The British on the contrary, showed a more forgiving as well as a more diplomatic spirit. They were against the partition of Silesia and it is the French who are today the nation most hated in Germany.
We have great admiration, a great sympathy for France, but it is our traditional policy not to make European alliances and in view of the irritation of Germany by certain French statesmen, our people will probably in no uncertain manner indicate that it is not our affair to ally ourselves with France against Germany whether under the guise of an agreement for "protection" or otherwise.
Demand for Big Army
Nor do I think that another proposition which the French delegation may possibly advance will meet with favor. France, having placed too great an indemnity on the back of Germany and finding that Germany cannot pay, may offer to remit part of an indemnity which it is now plain cannot be collected, providing we remit the debt which France owes us. Here again it is probable that our people will feel that our fortunes are not so bound up with Germany, that our policy with regard to the debt owed us by France should not be governed by the policy of France toward Germany.

FRANCE TO OPPOSE ANY REDUCTIONS IN LAND FORCE

Premier Briand Will Present Facts and Figures Before Armament Conference

By P. M. MALACRIDA
Written for International News Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—Proposals for the reduction of land armament are impossible as long as present conditions prevail in Europe, Premier Briand said, in announcing that he is now prepared to discuss this question before the armament conference.
Premier Briand denied that he will make any actual proposals for land armament, but said he will simply expose facts and figures and permit the other powers to draw their own conclusions.
High French officials declared that France has no desire for the largest army in the world, nor has she any desire for expansion at the expense of her recent defeated foe. France needs a long period of peace, perhaps more than any other nation in Europe, and is going to do all in her power to secure it, her spokesman declared.
The French army, exclusive of troops maintained for the fulfillment of mandates, does not amount to more than 300,000 men, it was claimed by the French spokesman.
Forces in Germany
Premier Briand, it is understood, will inform the conference that Germany has 150,000 men in her police force, and 150,000 in the Reichswehr. Recent fighting in Upper Silesia has demonstrated with what rapidity German soldiers, completely outfitted, swell the ranks of the Reichswehr, according to the French spokesman.
The French premier announces he is ready to accept any proposals that are compatible with the security of the French borders, but he does not conceal the fact that he expects to be able to demonstrate that land disarmament for France is an impossibility at the present moment.
MASS MEETING IS CALLED
A mass meeting to discuss the placing of the new high school on the Grey site at Doran street and Kennilworth Road will be held in the Central Avenue school, Dryden street and Central avenue, Monday night. The committee in charge has extended a general invitation to the public.
The strength of will is the test of a young man's possibilities.

Listed Property Is Easier Sold, States L. A. Hart, Realtor

The pioneer spirit is reflected on the part of the property owner who lists his property and is willing to give the other fellow a chance, says L. A. Hart of the Hart Realty company, 113 East Broadway.
"The success we have had, I think, is due to the fact that we have been able to deliver the property we sell and we feel that the attitude shown by the owners who list property with us is justified because the owners take a broad view and because they are satisfied to take a profit for their real estate and let the other man have a chance to do the same. No doubt this attitude is a heritage of the western pioneer who believed in all working together. These men are not afraid to list property at a price for which he can afford to sell.
"Our deals are seldom conflicting and are seldom retarded from any cause derived from the owner fearing he is not getting the last cent of his property is worth.
"We find that the attitude of the outsider coming here to buy property is rather 'leary' of purchasing directly from the owner; the prospective buyer is inclined to feel that unlisted property is being held for too high a price, otherwise it would be listed with some real estate dealer. The prospective buyer generally feels that listed property is priced so as to give the owner a good price for his property and give the client a good proposition, too."

Stocks and Markets

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Pronounced strength developed in the wheat market late in the day and prices soared rapidly under improved and influential buying power. The close was strong.
The strength in corn that has been an outstanding feature of the week, exerted itself forcibly today in a report from Washington that corn growers in the leading corn belt states are to be financially assisted in holding their grain at this low level.
Wheat closed 3 cents higher; corn 1 1/4¢ up and oats 1/4¢ higher.
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The stock market closed strong today, although there were some fractional recessions. Crucible steel continued in demand, selling up to 66 3/4¢ and U. S. Steel rose from 82¢ to 82 1/2¢. Transcontinental made a gain of nearly 2 points to 10 1/4¢. Government bonds unchanged; Railway and other bonds strong. Total sales stocks today were 839,300 shares; bonds $17,412,000.

Co-operative Ads Help Business, So P. J. Merrill Says

"If all the dealers in Glendale would advertise stores, we would all do a better business because the attention of everybody would be directed towards that article," declared P. J. Merrill of Coker & Taylor, 209 South Brand boulevard, yesterday afternoon.
"I know that is so because I have observed this principle of united advertising work in other lines."
My first love affair came to a climax when my sweetheart discovered that he had been carrying a "lock" of the calf's tail next to his heart for several months, under the illusion that it was a lock of my hair. He had insisted upon having a lock of my hair, but I, having none to spare, and finding that the color matched exactly that of my red calf, substituted that. It answered the purpose very well until a small boy gave the secret away. Then I was denounced as a true daughter of Eve!—Exchange.

ESCAPE KING HEADS VAUDEVILLE BILL T. D. & L. SHOW

Offers to Get Free of Any Device Brought; Several Other Feature Acts

Professor Brindamour and his company of escape artists and illusionists are to be the headliners on the Meiklejohn & Dunn vaudeville road show which is showing at the T. D. & L. theatre today and tonight. Professor Brindamour is the only man who has ever dove, handcuffed and shackled, into EHOT Bay, "the bottomless bay," along the New England coast. In presenting this spectacular novelty Professor Brindamour will escape from any strait-jacket, handcuffs, or other device anyone may bring upon the stage.

Another entertaining act is promised by Phesay and Powell, a young woman and man, who sing, dance and tell a number of late stories in a most approved fashion.

Tells Tales with Feet
Dancing Davey, the man who tells tales with his feet and Gale and Record, a talented couple offer their musical diversion, "Songs You Love to Hear," to complete the vaudeville portion of the program and William De Mille's photoplay, "After the Show," will be seen on the screen. This is a picture which deals with the life of actors and most of the scenes are laid back stage. Among the principals in the cast are Lilla Lee, Jack Holt and Charles Ogle.

Many Candidates to Be Received Tonight by Glendale Legion

The regular weekly meeting of the Glendale post of the American legion will take place tonight at the post headquarters on East Broadway. An exceptionally large attendance is expected, due to the fact that last week's meeting was called off on account of conflicting with the legion carnival and boxing entertainment.

More than twenty-five candidates are to be admitted into the organization at tonight's meeting, according to the statement of Post Commander Emil Kiefer. The local legionnaires, led by Mr. Kiefer and Adj. James F. McBryde, have been working diligently on the membership drive which was begun two weeks ago, and tonight's initiatory ceremonies will constitute the first real results of their efforts to make Glendale post rank "one-two" in the southern part of the state. The work of the members in charge of the "recruiting station" booth at the carnival grounds last week resulted in the addition of a score of new candidates and about half as many transfers from other posts from outside cities.

The members of the executive committee met last night in a specially called session, the purpose of which was to complete the preparation of the reports of the various committees which were in charge of carnival week. Final figures and other reports will be given at tonight's gathering.

Among several other important matters to be brought before the members of the post will be the announcement of the first annual Glendale post banquet and "get-together," which is to be held in the near future. Definite information regarding the affair will be given, including the date, location and other facts.

Change Dates for Showing Film With Local Folk Acting

On account of the short time in which to complete the story of the local talent movie, "The New York Financier," and because it has been necessary to use about 700 extra feet of film for the details of the story, the picture will not be shown at the T. D. & L. theatre until November 30 and December 1, instead of November 23 and 24 as previously planned, announces Edward Addis of the Addis Film company, Los Angeles, which during the past week has been busy "shooting" several different scenes in Glendale.

"We had planned to use seven or eight hundred feet of film," said Mr. Addis, "but in order to get all the details and make the story complete it will be necessary to use about 1,400 feet. Four hundred feet were used for the high school scenes alone."

"We have taken pictures of practically every business house in Glendale; have taken all the schools, the Armistice day parade, the Charlie Chaplin contest for the kiddies, and still have several hundred feet more of film to shoot. Three reels will be taken in all which will be shown at the T. D. & L. theater on November 30 and December 1 with no addition to the regular price. A matinee will also be given each afternoon for the school children."

"Stanton Hahn and Miss Lenore Jones will take the leading parts, the change being necessitated by some of our talent being able to do the scenes only on Saturday on account of high school work."

MURRAY LONGLEY IS GUEST

J. F. McClish, Real Estate Pioneer Here, Opening New Office

J. F. McClish, one of the pioneer real estate men of Glendale, is opening the Amar Investment company at 616 East Broadway, which will conduct a general real estate business, says Mr. McClish, with special emphasis given to business opportunities, loans, and subdivisions. "I first started in business in Glendale twenty-one years ago," said Mr. McClish, "and my first real estate deal was the original subdivision of Glendale Valley View tract on Central avenue and Broadway, extending from Central to the San Fernando Road and from Broadway to Vine street. This tract contained 753 lots. In this subdivision I was associated with the Eckenbrecker Syndicate of Los Angeles. Later with a subdivision of my own I placed the Glendale Garden Home tract on the market, and still later the Tropic Avenue tract, as well as several other large pieces of property."

"Although we are hardly squared away for business as yet, we have made several good deals since being here. By next Monday we shall be ready and besides general real estate business will feature business opportunities, loans, and subdivisions."

In addition to completing plans for the two-story Spanish type residence for Dr. C. A. Webb, 1229 East Colorado street, the architectural office of H. D. Charlton, 113 East Broadway, is now working on a set of plans for a four-room modern bungalow which Dr. Webb will build on the adjoining lot.

The bungalow will be 26 by 32 feet, with hardwood floors, composition roof, all modern conveniences, and French windows opening to a broad terrace. The design will be furnished by Mr. Charlton from stock plans.

Demands for Plans Are Indicative of Glendale's Growth

"Judging from the number of building plans we have to do and the rate they keep coming in, the building activity in Glendale is increasing, not from month to month, but from day to day," said H. D. Charlton, architect, 113 East Broadway, as he paused between lines. "Our chief worry is that we cannot find time to finish all the plans as soon as they are wanted."

REAL ESTATE FOLK HELP OTHERS BY ORGANIZATION

Better Service Is Obtained
Through Boards; Notes of Interest Through State

By E. P. HAYWARD
Secretary Glendale Realty Board
Division of commissions between board and state members only is a policy encouraged by the California Real Estate association. The national association went on record favoring a similar policy. Proffers of co-operation in prospective business made by non-board brokers to members of the organization are frequently met with the announcement that no earnings are divided with brokers who are not members of their real estate board, and, therefore, entitled to the use of the professional term "Realtor."

The spirit of service in the real estate profession pays both the broker and the client, according to an announcement sent out by the California Real Estate association to its members. "Brokers must give the purchaser more than he pays for by giving him the best attention possible. It is good business and both profit by the transaction," the statement said. One of the benefits of co-operative organization in California is the plus-measure of service given the buying public. The real estate men are organizing throughout the state, but are only following the example of the farm and fruit organizations, the financial and laboring classes, and an improved tone in realty dealing is noted throughout every county where boards are functioning.

Realty Notes of Interest

The city of Sacramento was second in California in number of building permits issued during October. Los Angeles was first. In proportion to population Sacramento claimed to lead the entire nation.

During October San Francisco reported more than $9,000,000 in real estate transactions. October was the largest business month for realtors in San Francisco since March 1920. Real estate conditions have steadily improved in the city, region since the strike was adjusted.

Real estate boards of California will compete for the president's trophy at the California real estate convention in Oakland, January 19-21. The trophy is a silver loving cup offered by Fred E. Reed. The trophy is a silver loving cup offered by Fred E. Reed. The trophy is a silver loving cup offered by Fred E. Reed.

The Long Beach realty board is the first real estate organization in California to install the multiple listing system. In this multiple plan every realty listing is given to all members of the realty board so that the property owner who places his holdings under this plan has the advantage of fifty to one hundred salesmen instead of one. Division of commission is made—50 per cent to the man who makes sale, 45 per cent to the man who made the original listing, and 5 per cent to the board committee in charge of the multiple listing, for the maintenance of the secretary and his office. The plan has been warmly advocated in the east by realtors.

The fifteenth annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards will be held at San Francisco, May 1, 2 and 3, 1922, according to a message from Albert E. Kern of San Francisco, who, as vice president of the national body, attended the national executive committee meeting at Des Moines, November 15. This date is the one selected by the San Francisco real estate board. More than 5000 realtors are expected to attend the convention at San Francisco.

State Real Estate Commissioner Edwin T. Keiser has placed the state department at the disposal of communities in organizing real estate boards. Keiser himself addresses a number of these meetings and in this manner comes in contact directly with the dealers whom he instructs in holding hearings under the license act.

Recently Commissioner Keiser was the chief speaker at the organizing of the Petaluma and Richmond real estate boards. There are now forty-seven real estate boards in California, an increase of 75 per cent, since January 1.

Miss Ida Potter Is Guest of Honor at Thanksgiving Party

Miss Laura Roberts and Miss Leone Shattuck were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower given at the home of Miss Shattuck, 114 West Broadway, Wednesday night, in honor of Miss Ida Potter, who is soon to become the bride of Jesse Flower. Decorations were carried out in the Thanksgiving motif.

Cards and games were enjoyed during the evening after which refreshments were served. Place cards were cut in the shape of pumpkins, to which were attached hollow walnut shells, inside of which were paper slips telling the date of the wedding, December 7.

After refreshments had been served the guests gathered around a large table and a pumpkin was brought in and placed before Miss Potter. Upon taking the top off the pumpkin she found it to contain a collection of various gifts.

The guests present included Miss Ida Potter, Mrs. Maud Potter, Jesse Flower, Louis Roberts, F. V. Kiefer, E. O. Kiefer, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Shattuck and the hostesses, Miss Laura Roberts and Miss Leone Shattuck of Glendale, Miss Ruth Miller, Don McMillan and Mr. and Mrs. John Stauffer of Los Angeles.

THANKSGIVING BALL AT HIGH SCHOOL TO BE REUNION

Alumnae Association to Hold Big Social Affair; Date Chosen Is November 23

Members of the dancing committee of the Alumnae Association of the Glendale High school are making elaborate plans for the big Thanksgiving ball, which will take place on Wednesday night, November 23, in the girls' gymnasium of the high school.

The affair, which will be in the nature of the regular semi-annual get-together and reunion of the organization, is being looked forward to by a large number of former students of the society, and a record attendance is expected.

Frank Balthis, who is chairman of the committee, has announced that the well-known Los Angeles Country club five-piece orchestra will furnish the "jazz" for the terpsichorean enthusiasts.

According to Balthis, this will be but one inducement that will be offered to the merry-makers.

Officers of Association
The other members of the committee are Jane Snyder, David Folz, Ernestine Lyon and James McClusky, they having been appointed at a recent meeting of the executive committee.

The officers of the society are: Don Packer, president; Russell Tammell, vice-president; Ernestine Lyon, secretary; Frank Balthis, treasurer.

Special invitations will be sent to every alumnus whose address can be obtained, in addition to all of the present students of the school. Every member is permitted to accompany an outside friend to the dance, which is expected to attract a crowd of over 100 couples. Detailed announcement of the entertainment will be made within the next few days.

SAN DIEGO TO SEND DELEGATION HERE FOR BIG MEET

Large Number of Entries Are Being Received in State Horseshoe Tournament

According to a communication just received by W. H. Nicoles, 322 East Fairview avenue, secretary of the Glendale Horseshoe club and treasurer of the State Horseshoe Pitchers' association, San Diego will be represented in the state horseshoe tournament to be held here on the high school grounds September 25 and 26.

The communication is from George E. Krimball, secretary of the State Horseshoe Pitchers' association and reports that San Diego through the advertising carried on by both the state and local organization, has heard of the tournament and has registered several pitchers to compete in the big event here.

Entries Growing Fast

The communication from Secretary Krimball also states that the club in southern California will be represented in the tournament. Glendale, says Mr. Nicoles, will be represented by ten or more contestants, the names of whom will be announced later in the week as soon as the entry list is completed.

Long Beach is also expected to have a large number of entries, says Mr. Nicoles, as that club has the distinction of having the state champion, D. W. Wilkinson, and another star pitcher for whom much is predicted, Gilman Hoyt, who defeated the state champion here last month in an exhibition game.

Trophies Being Engraved

"The trophies are being engraved today," said Mr. Nicoles, and final details being arranged for the two days that Glendale is to be host to three or four hundred visitors. The trophies will amount to several hundred dollars and the competition will be very keen.

"The official program being prepared by Secretary Krimball of Long Beach will be ready in a day or two. All entries must be made either to Secretary Krimball or myself before the 19th of the month."

Not Golden, But Some Egg for a Little Hen

STRATHMORE, Alta.—The mythical goose that laid the golden egg had nothing on a proud little barnyard aristocrat on the farm of Hugh Berry. In the time-worn tale there is nothing to indicate that the golden egg was of more than usual size. In this respect, at least, the immortal goose was a piker.

Ernestine, the little purebred Black Minorca, claims the Dominion record for size. In the struggle with several other champions for supremacy, Ernestine laid an egg having a circumference of 9 3/16 inches. It weighed 5 1/2 ounces.

Spencer, Ind., is the town nearest the center of population of the United States. The exact point is 8.3 miles southeast of Spencer, Ind., in the "extreme southeast corner of Owen county."

FOOTBALL STAR TO GIVE ADDRESS AT BOYS' BANQUET

Paul Green, End on U. S. C. Team, Will Be Speaker on Hi-Y Program Monday

On account of Coach Pipal of Occidental college being at the conference of the coaches of Southern California, it will be impossible for him to be on the program as speaker of the evening at the Hi-Y banquet given in honor of the high school football team at the Presbyterian church next Monday night, and his place on the program will be taken by Paul Green, right end of the U. S. C. team, announces Rex C. Kelley, 106-A East Broadway, Y. M. C. A. secretary for the Glendale district.

Paul Green comes here Monday night with a message to the high school lads, says Mr. Kelley, as Coach Henderson of the U. S. C. states that he knows of no other man on the team who understands college football as well as Mr. Green. His subject for the evening will be "Clean Athletics, Their Value to the School and the Individual."

Well Versed in Football

During his high school work Mr. Green was chosen as end on the state high school team. This is his third year in the U. S. C., and he comes here with distinction of knowing all the details as to how college football is conducted, and its value to the individual. Mr. Green is also manager of the daily paper of the university, "The Trojan."

The banquet will be served at 6:30 next Monday night at the Presbyterian church as a complimentary dinner to the high school football team for commendable work it has done this season in playing a clean game.

The Hi-Y, says Secretary Kelley, stands for clean speech, clean living, clean scholarship and clean athletics and this season the high school team has established an enviable record in upholding these principles.

Phil was exceedingly fond of the woman who lived next door. She often asked him to stay for meals. One day after a dinner which he enjoyed very much, he turned to the man of the house and said: "You got a mighty good home here."

YOUNG PEOPLE GET NUMBER OF NEW LIBRARY BOOKS

Daring Exploits of Marines Told; Sea Heroes Described ---Thanksgiving Stories

At the story hour last Saturday, which was conducted in the young folks' department at the library on Harvard street, Mrs. J. C. Danford gave a talk on "Good Book Week," which is being nationally observed this week. The patrons in this department of the library have been given pamphlets, "The Bookshelf for Boys and Girls, from Nursery Rhyme to Grown-Up Time," giving a list of books classified according to age and titles. Tomorrow interesting Thanksgiving stories will be told, and there will be a surprise in store for all the children who have been attending and enjoying these story hours.

Books which have been released for distribution in the young folks' department during the past week include the following:

"The Marines Have Landed," by Lieutenant Colonel Giles Bishop, Jr., a story of the marines at Nicaragua, where they undertake and accomplish daring exploits.

Story of College Life

"Dick Arnold at Varsity," by Earl Reed Silvers. A story of college life told by a man who won his varsity letter in two sports and who now spends his time on a college campus and knows college life.

"From Tenderfoot to Golden Eaglet," by Amy E. Blanchard.

"Kick Formation," a story of football, by Ralph Henry Barbour.

"The Dragon's Secret," by Augusta Huiell Seaman. A delightful mystery story for girls, with a thread of Oriental running through.

"A Georgian Bungalow," by Frances Courtenay Taylor.

"Bob Hanson, Scout," by Russell Gordon Carter. A story of boys who decided to go camping in winter and chose as their site an old Indian cabin. The tale is of the wholesome fun they all have in the crisp winter outdoors.

"Greater Love Hath No Man," by Frank L. Packard. The story of a man's sacrifice for the love of those who have reared him.

"Bill's Mistake," by Robert Gale Barson. A story of the California redwoods.

GLENDALE MIDGETS IN TRAINING FOR NEXT CONTEST

Locals and Huntington Park Squad to Battle Wednesday on Neutral Field

By HOWARD M'GILLIS
Sporting Editor The Evening News

Coach Howard Butterfield of the pennant winning Glendale high school lightweight football team is working overtime on the local athletic field this week getting his charges in fighting trim for the coming playoff for the Southern California championship. The Midgets, still feeling "snappy" over their runaway stunt with the teams in the Central league, are bubbling over with enthusiasm and are determined to continue their winning stride in the title series.

The initial appearance of the local 130-pounders will take place on Wednesday of next week with Huntington Park, they having come out on top in their section of the Bay league. The contest will probably be played on a neutral Los Angeles field and will attract large contingents of supporters from each institution.

Burbank Is Smeared

The squad traveled up to Burbank Monday afternoon in quest of excitement and also a little scrimmage practice, returning home with a 35 to 0 victory added to their rapidly increasing string. The main purpose of the game was to execute a number of new trick plays and also to keep the boys from getting stale. This being the reason given for not running up a larger score!

The Red and Black warriors seem to be improving with age and they are fast growing old. A few more days to smooth over the rough edges and they will be ready for all comers.

HARDING IS WELL PLEASED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—President Harding is well pleased with the progress made by the disarmament conference. This was the word brought from the White House by Senator Lodge, member of the American delegation, following a conference with the president. "Both the president and myself are pleased with the way the conference is progressing," said Lodge. "It is moving faster than I expected. I hope it will not slow up." Lodge said he expected the conference to last not more than two months.

OIL FIRE LOSS IS $175,000

LONG BEACH, Nov. 18.—A fire which started in the Shell Oil company's Martin No. 1 well on Signal Hill, destroyed three large tanks filled with oil, also a derrick on a nearby well, before being brought under control. The total damage is estimated at $175,000.

TARIFF BILL IS EXTENDED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—President Harding has signed the joint resolution extending the emergency tariff bill until February 1, it was announced at the White House.

SOUTHERN FAILURES MANY, CONDITIONS BEST IN WEST

Confidence Re-established and Big Banking Associations Pledge Co-operation

By U. S. Press Association. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—October failures reported by Bradstreet numbered 1,806, an increase of 17 per cent over those of September and the second largest number in any month since March, 1915. Insolvencies last month were nearly four times those of October, 1919. Liabilities aggregated $47,722,293, 31 per cent above September's total, but smaller than in any preceding month back to November of last year.

The biggest increase came in the South, which had about two and one-half times the failures and liabilities of October, 1920. In ten months of 1921 there have been 15,535 failures involving liabilities of $591,105,741. Farm Status Improves.

Agricultural and live stock conditions in the west have improved and confidence has been re-established within the past few weeks, Eugene Meyer, Jr., of the War Finance corporation, said on his return from a series of conferences in Chicago. Mr. Meyer and other officials met with representatives of the corporation's loan agencies in Iowa, Nebraska, Wyoming, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio and Illinois, and with representatives of state banking associations of those states. Banking associations, Mr. Meyer said, have promised their co-operation making the corporation's funds available where most needed by surveys of the agricultural communities within their states and by reports on the credit requirements of the small farmers. The corporation, he added, through extension of credit, was seeking to preserve the breeding herds in the far west, to prevent the marketing of immature and young cattle, and to assist in the financing of cattle for feeding in the corn belt.

Child Labor in Beet Fields. Nearly 1,100 children under 16 years of age are employed in the Colorado beet fields, according to a survey recently completed by the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor. The harmful effects of their labor, a statement issued recently said, was shown by medical examination, which disclosed "in 70 per cent of the one thousand examined, postural deformities and malposition," while the educational handicap was said to be illustrated "by the fact that over 40 per cent were from one to seven years behind in their grades." Four-fifths of the children examined were under 14, one-fourth under 10, "and a number had not reached 8," according to the statement.

The educational handicap of the beet-working children is shown by the department by the fact that over 40 per cent of those between the ages of 9 and 15 included in the study were from one to seven years behind in their grades. School records indicated that the progress of these children was inferior by 25 to 35 per cent to that of the unemployed children attending the same schools. The children of the transient laborers were particularly unfortunate educationally.

Funds for Alaska Road. The house has passed and sent to the senate a bill authorizing an appropriation of $4,000,000 to complete construction of the Alaskan railroad. A total of $52,000,000 already has been appropriated for building the road, which will extend from Seward to Fairbanks, a distance of 539 miles. Work is now in progress on a final link of sixty-one miles. The $4,000,000 appropriation was needed, Chairman Curry of the territories committee said, to construct a 1340-foot bridge over the Tanana river and one 500 feet long over the Menana river, and for other similar works.

New Latvian Navy, Strangest in World, Springs Into Being

LONDON—What is probably the strangest navy in history has just sprung into being.

The little Baltic state of Latvia recently decided that it must have some warships to protect its long coastline and prevent smuggling, and so it has now put into commission a battle fleet of three armed tugboats!

Not content with this armada, Latvia has decided to have a flagship for it. Her first "battleship," the Versaiti, will be launched this month, and it will be a vessel of 525 tons, with a speed of seventeen knots.

The Versaiti has had an interesting if inglorious career already, for she is nothing less than the old German guardship EM-68, which was sunk in Latvian waters in 1917 and has now been raised and renovated.

She is certainly the only guardship that has risen from the depths of the sea to the dizzy heights of becoming the flagship of a battle fleet.

BOY YOUNGEST PATRIARCH. LONDON—At a recent ceremony of the accession of King Fetsuel to the throne of Mesopotamia much interest was aroused by the presence of the Patriarch of the Nestorian Christians. Those who expected to see an old man were much astonished to find that the Patriarch is a boy of 12, clad in clerical robes. The present Patriarch is the youngest religious dignitary in the world. He is now learning English.

A girl likes a fellow with lots of go to him, if he takes her along.

The illustration shows cut of 2 1/2-lb. can. Also put up in 1, 3 and 5 lb. tins.

METALLIC AIRCRAFT IS BEING BUILT BY FRENCH EXPERTS

American and British Makes Imported for Study After Several Aviators Die

PARIS, Nov. 18.—French airplane constructors—justly alarmed at the number of recent disastrous accidents, one of them causing the death of one of the country's finest airmen, Bernard de Romanet, due to the wing canvas having torn in mid air—are now turning their attention to the building of metallic machines. Models of metallic machines have been imported into France from America and England, and till now but little confidence had been placed in such machines.

It took three such accidents as mentioned above in the space of three days, before constructors were convinced that fast traveling machines cannot be at the mercy of the slightest tear in the canvas covering the wings. These accidents occurred during the trials and during the race itself for the Coupe Duetsch de la Meurthe, founded as a successor to the Gordon Bennett cup, which was won and retained permanently last year by France.

Very Fast Machines. New and formidably fast machines had been built for this year's race, and the two best pilots in the country—Romanet and Sadi Lecoq, last year's winner of the Bennett cup—had been engaged to fly the machines. Romanet during a trial was flying at a speed of 240 kilometers an hour when the canvas on his wings tore, and, not being high enough to control the machine, he plunged headlong to earth. He was taken out of the machine unrecognizable.

Even if it is a good deal of trouble motorists usually can avoid some additional trouble by stopping as soon as possible after hitting a pedestrian. And, besides, ordinary manners demand that one stop; the pedestrian nearly always does.

Speaking Directly Into the Transmitter

Clearness and distinctness of speech is of course the foundation of a satisfactory telephone conversation.

The transmitter of the telephone is the result of years of study and experimentation by telephone engineers. It is of delicate adjustment and its fullest effectiveness can only be obtained through proper use.

The lips should not be more than an inch from the transmitter, and the voice should be clear, not loud.

Speak directly and distinctly into the mouthpiece. This will mean your satisfaction and that of the person with whom you are talking.

Japanese Healer's Fingertip Cures Amaze
New York Medical Men; Uses Nerve Centers

By MARGERY REX

Written for International News Service
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—East meets west when Oriental fingertip touch skillfully on Occidental nerve centres and thereby heal bodily ills.

Down High street, Brooklyn, where yellow skins and white mingle near the waterfront, in true Limehouse effect, there are those who will tell you miracles are taking place at No. 214.

To Harukichi Nakamura, Japanese healer, are flocking mothers with babies still showing the deadly visitations of infantile paralysis, twisted hands, imbecile expressions and incoherent tongues that can tell of nothing but the toll of disease. Men and women come also, lame and paralyzed, even those with organic disease.

Nakamura, the healer who came here recently from Japan by way of Paris, has had a varied history. He has long been a student of the Yogi philosophy. Later after studying anatomy, and the nerve centres of the human mechanism, this interesting man made a trip about the world to study mankind.

He is said to have cured thousands in Japan, Korea and India, and, odddest of all, has cured himself of the bad effect of wounds sustained in the Russian-Japanese war.

Occidental Setting Strange
At No. 214 High street, where he is demonstrating his power in the office of his friend, Dr. Ogouri, the slender, wiry metaphysician formed a strange contrast to the strictly western "parlor," where he sat in an oak "mission" chair, stocking feet tucked up under him on a cushion of gay hues. He has a jovial face, wispy black hair and whiskers, matched in color and texture by the silken robe he wears.

Between his thin fingers he held a long cigarette holder of palest amber. Upon being introduced he made an indescribably quick movement, jumped into a pair of patent leather slippers and disposed of the cigarette. He smiled genially and apologized for his English, which is quite good.

Among the patients that soon arrived was little Dorothy Pickard, of West Hoboken, with her mother, Mrs. Pauline Pickard. Dorothy is nearly six, but since a fever, at the age of three months, she has been unable to move her hands, speak intelligently or wear a pleasing expression. Now she moves about, counting up to ten, and chattering intelligently. She is considered the prize exhibit among the patients, since it is but a week ago that she met Nakamura.

Uncle and Child Improve Fast
The introduction came through Dorothy's uncle, who is also being treated by the Japanese healer. A fireman, he was injured in the performance of his duty some years ago so badly that he has since walked with difficulty, has been unable to reach over to pick up any object from the floor, and could not lift either foot more than a few inches off the ground. During the demonstration and treatment he showed remarkable agility.

"Manipulation of nerve centres" is the explanation given me by the head and staff of a well-known hospital who visited Nakamura.

"By stimulating the nerve centers the blood supply is regulated," one of the doctors explained. "This re-establishes proper circulation in parts void of supply, and acts indirectly through the nerve centers—in a broad sense."

"I believe he has supernatural power," said an interpreter. "He is fifty-one now and has been healing people for the last thirty years. He has saved Koreans in the remote parts of that land, where help was almost inaccessible.

"His power is not hypnotism or mesmerism. It is nothing so limited. He can teach others to do what he does, so it is not a weird personal thing. In Asia he has saved 130,000 people.

"His great sense of humor appeals to children, and he is very successful in handling them. The jovial side is a great help."

BOSSY DID MOONSHINING

RICHWOOD, W. Va.—There have been all kinds of moonshiners in West Virginia and numerous odd and divers ways of moonshining, but Richwood comes forth with the claim for distinction of having the only cow moonshiner. She is named "Bossy," and is owned by Henry Gibson of the South Side. She started moonshining the other evening when she came home with a copper worm, such as is used in moonshine stills, encircling her neck like a collar. She got the copper coil over her head while eating at a moonshiner's still in the mountains while the owner was absent.

Claims Husbands Should Be Handy About House

CHICAGO—The question of the little boy who asked his mother, "Who is this man who comes here on Sunday and spansks me when I don't behave?" is not merely the idle imagination of the cartoonists, according to Carroll G. Pearse, head of the Milwaukee normal school, a speaker before the National Home-makers' council here.

"No, indeed," continued Professor Pearse. "The father of today pays too much attention to the factory and the shop and not enough to the home."

"Too many fathers, the speaker said, carelessly remark at the club that they 'leave that to the wife'—meaning things to be taken care of around the home.

This, he declared, is a cowardly resort. It's as much a man's business, in the opinion of Prof. Pearse, to stoke the furnace when the janitor is off playing poker as it is the wife's to "put the kettle on."

In fact, every husband should be a janitor, as well, and a plumber and a generally handy man around the house, if he is a good husband, according to Professor Pearse.

Water flowing from deep artesian wells is always warm, on account of the internal heat of the earth.

LAND SAILOR IS SEASICK

BELLAIRE, Ohio—Chorus girls in a local theatre received a fright when a man, who evidently had fallen from the waterwagon, climbed onto the stage during a scene set to represent the deck of a ship. As he carried a butcher knife in his belt it was thought he was hunting trouble. He was too seasick to navigate the stage ship, however. It developed that he was a kitchen employe of a local club.

ANTI-SUICIDE CLUB IS ORGANIZED BY WEALTHY YOUTH

Alarming Increase in Deaths by Violence Causes Young Man to Take Action

By NEWTON C. PARKE
Written for International News Service

PARIS, Nov. 18.—Shocked by the increasing number of suicides in Budapest, one of the gayest capitals of the world before the war, a group of six wealthy young men have formed an "Anti-Suicide club," whose object is not only to prevent suicide, but to care for dependents of those who end their own lives in despair.

They work absolutely without salary and pay all the expenses of the organization themselves. The police are in close collaboration with the club and declare that scores of lives undoubtedly have been saved by youths who were once some of Budapest's gayest spenders.

Robert Feinsilber is the founder and president of the club. All Budapest's miseries know him as "Uncle Robert," and back of the creation of the organization is the story of his experiences in Russia, where he was sent as a boy to study the works of Tolstoi.

In his class of forty students in Russia Feinsilber found twenty-six youths who were determined to end their lives. Some of them had made several attempts. Disheartened at his experiences, he returned to Budapest and vowed that he would devote his life to cheering the distressed.

Three Suicides a Day

Upon his return from the war young Feinsilber found that the number of suicides in Hungary had increased to an alarming extent. Young girls, depressed by the loss of their lovers, were drowning themselves daily; the police had reports every few hours of the suicide of a widow, or of old people whose support had been taken from them by the war. From 1916 to 1920 the number of suicides in Budapest had increased nearly 600 per cent, and in the capital alone at least three persons ended their lives daily.

Feinsilber opened his villa as headquarters of the club and invited several of his friends to join him. He made known through the newspapers that he was ready to help obtain employment for persons who despaired of getting work and contemplated suicide. He gave advice to young girls, old men and women, and even titled persons whose fortunes had been swept away by the war finally came to consult him.

Police Give Aid to Club

As news of his efforts spread throughout Budapest he began to receive aid from unexpected sources. The young wife of a former diplomat, who was reduced to playing the violin in the streets for a living, told one of her friends that she was going to kill herself. The Anti-Suicide club informed the police. The woman was watched and dragged from the river just in time. Feinsilber took her to his villa. He bought her new clothes, paid her rent and arranged violin lessons, so that today she earns a decent living for herself and her invalid husband.

A baroness, once very wealthy, began selling her costumes, one by one, to buy bread. One of her neighbors suspected that she planned suicide and wrote Feinsilber an anonymous letter. "Uncle Robert" had the gas cut off in her apartment and the police brought her to his villa. She confessed her intentions and, through Feinsilber's efforts, was put in touch with former friends who are caring for her.

Another villa for the care of children of suicides was Feinsilber's next move. He has followed that by establishing a central organization, to which he invites wealthy residents of Budapest to bring clothing and provisions for those in misery.

Dietary Diseases Are Most Deadly, Asserted

COLUMBUS, Nov. 18.—"Nearly all diseases which take us off before our time have their origin in dietary deficiencies," declared Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, in an address here.

"If we want to build up human vitality, if we want to resist disease, if we want to live healthy, useful and, especially, long lives, we should study carefully that problem which most nearly affects those things, and that is food," continued Dr. Wiley.

"By the study of food I do not mean the traditional study of food, or what your doctor tells you, but what the scientific dietitian tells you. If we have that kind of advice we will lay the foundations for that great work of human uplift, so far as prolonging human life is concerned, which will mean so much to the health and prosperity of the nation."

'LET JAPAN HOLD CHINA'

LONDON, Nov. 18.—It would be better to let Japan hold China than to risk another war, General Ian Hamilton declared in a speech to the Press club here.

"Japan could take Hong Kong and the Philippines and it would be a long time before the Japanese could be turned out," Hamilton said. "The conference at Washington is like men smoking in a powder magazine. You cannot frighten, browbeat or bully the Japanese."

Five thousand tons of tin are consumed in this country annually for "tin foil," which is now employed so extensively for wrapping chocolate, cigarettes, and many other articles of merchandise. Another 4,000 tons are used for collapsible tubes that hold dental creams, toilet creams, artists' moist colors, etc.

SAY FIVE MILLION YOUNG FOLK HAVE IMPROPER DIET

Health Card System Devised to Wipe Out Malnutrition, Association Believes

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Over 5,000,000 school children in the United States are suffering from malnutrition, according to a bulletin issued by the National Tuberculosis association recently. Malnutrition when carried far enough becomes plain starvation. The vast majority of these millions of little ones are malnourished as a result, not of insufficient food, but of improper diet.

To relieve this situation a plan for instructing the children in correct health habits has been devised by the National Tuberculosis association in co-operation with Dr. W. R. P. Emerson, of Boston, the nutrition expert, and will be inaugurated in schools throughout the country as soon as possible.

The plan will by no means be an experiment, since it will follow the lines of the Modern Health Crusade, in which over 6,000,000 school children of normal weight are now enrolled. In determining what children should be classified as malnourished Dr. Emerson has decided, as a result of long study and careful observation, that a child more than 7 per cent under normal weight for his age and height is clearly suffering from malnutrition. It is on this basis that the estimate of 5,000,000 little ones of school age suffering from insufficient nourishment in this country has been made.

"Chore Card System"

In the plan specially prepared for the benefit of the malnourished children each child will be required, through his teacher and parents, to keep a "chore record" card. This card, which is to be submitted at regular intervals to the teacher, indicates the performance of the following health chores, particularly adapted to the requirements of children suffering from malnutrition:

1. I was weighed this week on the day checked (x).
2. Besides a good breakfast and the noon and evening meals, I ate mid-morning and afternoon lunches, as directed.
3. I ate only wholesome food today, including vegetables, fruit, and drank at least a pint of milk, as directed, and tried always to eat and drink slowly.
4. I drank four glasses of water, some before each meal, and drank no tea, coffee nor any injurious drinks.
5. I went to toilet at my regular time.
6. I was in bed last night ten or more hours, as directed; windows open.
7. I rested lying down not less than twenty-five minutes both this forenoon, and this afternoon.
8. I played in the fresh air today, exercising for the time and in the way directed.
9. I washed my hands before each meal today.
10. I brushed my teeth thoroughly after breakfast and after the evening meal.
11. I took a full bath on each of the days of the week that is checked (x).

Weight Important

The chore records will also supply a table showing the normal weight that the child should have. His actual weight and normal weight will both be plotted on the chart in curves, so that children and parents can graphically picture the change in physical condition.

By doing the eleven chores faithfully for periods of not less than five, ten or fifteen weeks the child becomes a squire, knight or knight banneret and is entitled to wear the insignia of the Modern Health Crusade. When he gains normal weight he may earn advanced honors by performing standard Modern Health Crusade chores and be admitted to the Health Round Table through physical fitness tests.

With these chore records will be supplied information on nutrition clinics and nutrition classes for the training of children and mothers. "A malnourished child is an easy subject for tuberculosis," says Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, of the National Tuberculosis association. "We shall try by means of these special chore records and with the co-operation of our state and local tuberculosis associations to bring as many of the millions of malnourished children as possible up to a proper standard of health, so that they may better resist the onslaughts of tuberculosis."

Senator Watson Is All 'Het Up' Over Traffic

WASHINGTON.—Senator Thomas E. Watson is all "het up" over the scant consideration shown pedestrians by motorists in the District.

When Senator McKellar, of Tennessee, was recently run down by an automobile while crossing a street, the outraged dignity of the Georgia senator burst forth in the chamber of the senate.

"I saw senators jumping out of the way of those devilish motorcycles and other vehicles," vehemently shouted Watson, "and I saw a dog chasing a squirrel. There was no policeman around. Where are the police? Why don't they get outdoors and do something? These magnificent grounds should be safe for people to walk about. This capitol and the flag behind us should stand for the sanctity of life, if for anything. I ask the District committee to afford Capitol Hill better police protection, he wrathfully concluded.

PACIFIC QUESTIONS NEED CARE, SAYS FORMER PREMIER

English-Speaking Races Must Look With Special Notice on Serious Problems

By ELLIS H. MARTIN
International News Service
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Australia stands straight out for holding that country for the white race.

Sir Joseph George Ward, former premier of New Zealand, here on a visit, emphasized that point above all others in a statement of conditions in the Pacific.

"No government, power or party could alter that policy," he declared. Sir Joseph appealed for co-operation between the United States and Great Britain in finding a solution of Pacific problems.

If the United States and the British as two sections of the English-speaking people were to look upon the Pacific Ocean as under their special care, there would be no need of a large naval armament, he said. "We have passed through one of the most devastating times that the world has known," said the former Premier. "It has left behind it consequences the ends of which none can foresee. If out of the chaotic conditions of war that shattered the world can come right it will not be accomplished quickly, and I do not think that the most optimistic of us can do other than realize that the effects of the strife will not disappear in so short a period as ten years.

"But there are so many things that can be done toward making things better that it is not a bad idea on occasions of this sort, where men meet from far-spread parts of the world, to exchange views.

Prevent Future Wars

"We want as a world community to realize that wars in the future ought to be prevented. We do want to impress upon these statesmen of the world who are now in conference in Washington, who are responsible to the world for molding a policy, that none of us are going to look with indifference upon their work. If the representatives of the United States, with its 100,000,000 people; the British Empire and Japan, leaving out all the others for the moment, when they get together do not give, take and exercise common sense, with a spirit of determination to enable the world at large to carry on its affairs without war within twenty-five or fifty years from now, then they have not done their duty to the people they represent.

"This country, the British Empire and Japan possess the three greatest navies in the world. What is the use of professing sentiments against war in the future if a system is to be permitted through which men whose business it is to keep their swords and guns bright will force the use of them eventually upon those who do not want war? We see the Japanese building the largest and most powerful weapons of warfare, and if one country does it, whether we agree to the policy or not, we are bound as men and women in our respective countries to allow no one to take advantage of us by getting ahead in the matter of national preservation measures.

Pacific Question Important

"The Pacific is the greatest ocean in the world, the greatest potential for good in the world in the interest of the English-speaking peoples. There are more than 700,000,000 people in the lands adjoining the Pacific. If the United States of America and the British Empire as two sections of the English-speaking people were to look upon the Pacific ocean as under their special care there would be no need of a large naval armament.

"It is of vital importance to your people that we should look after the interest of the Pacific and that we should never allow anyone, under an alliance or by any other means, to take it away from us. There are islands in the Pacific over which a flag once placed would give mastery to the entire area. We all want to think more about the necessity of guarding the interests of the people who are to follow us in the Pacific nations of the future.

Calling for People

"New Zealand and Australia are calling for people. They are comparatively empty. New Zealand, with a population of 1,250,000 can support 45,000,000. Can you see as I can that if the people do not come from English-speaking communities, with 500,000,000 of another race within ten days of Australia, that great territory will not long remain unoccupied? It is to your interest and ours that we insure in the centuries to come the Anglo-Saxon speaking peoples shall be in charge of all these territories and that we develop an intercourse—it may be by treaty or by other means—that will bind the ties closer than they ever have been bound before.

SHIPPING BOARD ASSETS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The assets of the United States shipping board on July 1 was $307,400,000, the shipping board announced. The liabilities were $115,378,000, leaving a difference of approximately $190,000,000. The assets are exclusive of ships, unexpended appropriations or admiralty claims.

England Much Interested in Retention of Craft; Land Forces Are Considered

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—

Unless some practical plan for the rehabilitation and stabilization of Europe, which shall include both Germany and Russia, is actually laid down before the conclusion of the conference on limitation of armament and far eastern questions, it is highly improbable that any effort towards a material reduction of naval and military armament and permanent world peace, will meet with lasting success, Senator France, republican of Maryland, declared.

By H. K. REYNOLDS
Written for International News Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—Proceeding on the assumption that the Washington conference was called primarily to find means of preventing war, rather than making war cheaper, Great Britain's delegation to the conference will contend that the retention of large submarines is not compatible with the desires of the powers now assembled here.

This is the semi-official view outlined today at British headquarters. It was pointed out by a British spokesman that the naval expenses of the United States, Great Britain and Japan could be reduced materially through substitution of submarines for capital ships in the building programs, but the possibility of war would not be eliminated or minimized by such a procedure.

Although the British people, it was stated, are staggering under excessive taxation, equal to that of other countries which are supporting large navies, Britain's diplomatic representatives here are convinced that the purpose of the Washington conference will not be served by reduction of expense which leave untouched war's deadliest weapons.

Land Armament Problem

The military advisers of the British delegation were working today on the problem of land armament. It is deemed probable that they will be prepared to make a statement of Great Britain's attitude toward reduction of her army, when this question is presented before the conference by Premier Briand of France. Great Britain's representatives at Washington already have made it plain that they regard the British army more as a police force for the United Kingdom than as a fighting unit.

The British do not expect the conference to take sweeping action for the reductions of land armaments.

PERMITS SALE OF BEER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair telegraphed all state prohibition directors authorizing them to amend permits of druggists to permit the sale of medicinal beer. Hundreds of druggists who have asked the prohibition bureau for instructions allowing the sale of beer were advised by wire to apply to state directors for permits.

JAPAN'S VIEWS ON NAVY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Japan's delegates to the arms conference believe that their country should maintain a navy slightly greater than 60 per cent of that maintained by Great Britain and the United States, Baron Kato announced.

Words have weight, to build, like a block of granite, or to destroy, like an explosive shell.

QUEER FLEET ON BOSOM OF SUSQUEHANNA IS BUSY 'MINING' COAL ON RIVER BOTTOM

Sucking coal from bed of Susquehanna River

By International News Service
 HARRISBURG, Nov. 11.—Viewed from a distance the Susquehanna river basin here after 6 o'clock looks like a seaport with a mysterious fleet swarming at anchor. The fleet, however, is unique, for it is engaged in salvaging the coal washed down from the northern coal regions of the state. So far as known here there are only two rivers in the world where salvaging such coal has been found a profitable investment—the Susquehanna and the Lehigh, in the eastern part of Pennsylvania.

Profitable as the business now is and has been for several years, it is doomed within the next decade, according to reports made recently by experts employed by the state. The record amount was taken in 1919, when almost two million tons were removed from the rivers and streams draining the anthracite fields.

During many coal shortage periods the industry has proved a valuable aid. Locally the coal is retailed at about $3 a ton. The difference in price between it and other coal has been so great that many large industrial plants, as well as private homes, have installed electric blower systems making a forced draft which permits its burning.

In the early years of the anthracite coal industry all small sizes were wasted at the collieries and washed into the streams. Recently the demand for small sizes of coal has stopped this practice. Some still continues to come into the river from culm banks, but even they are now being utilized at the mines.

The mountain-like culm banks which were once a part of every anthracite mine are now disappearing. Once they are gone the river coal industry will have but a short period of life. Because of the accumulation in the river beds, some of which are yet untouched, experts estimate that five years after the culm banks have been utilized the last coal digger will have to be scrapped.

Yet before that time arrives experts predict the industry may again play its part in relieving industrial fuel famines such as were experienced during the last two years.

Without the river coal supply many industrial plants would have been forced to suspend during such periods.

More than 100 operators—individuals and companies—are engaged in the business here and at other points on the river and its tributaries. The output of each concern varies from 5,000 to 100,000 tons per year.

The river coal, as it is called, was first taken from river at low-water mark periods by men armed with scoops which permitted sand and silt to escape. Most of this supply was used by the men taking it from the river, and very little was sold.

Later it was discovered a sand digger with a rotary pump would serve to reclaim the coal. Specially designed rotary pumps were later mounted on flats, while others use portable bucket dredges. On the small tributaries near the mines stationary pumps on the banks are used.

Local operators apparently are not worrying about the ultimate "scrapping of the fleet," but are bending every effort to make the most of present conditions.

Broadway Comedy Three Have Good Act but Bears, Monks
 and Others Are Bored

By LEO T. HEATLEY,
 Written for International News Service
 NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Music may have "charms to soothe the savage beast," but you can't prove it by the denizens of the Bronx Zoo.

Three members of a Broadway municipal comedy company had the hunch they would like to try out their vocal talents on the city-fed animals. They wanted to prove to their own satisfaction that the beasts of the jungle could appreciate their warbling fully as well as the denizens of Broadway. They received the necessary permission from the zoo director and started to do their stuff. It was a huge success—with the animals. So far as effect upon the animals was concerned, however, they might just as well have expounded Euclid or Einstein.

Alice, the elephant, was the only one to show interest. But then Alice had undergone a preliminary course of training at Coney Island, where they taught her to shake a wicked shimmy to the tune of a hurdy-gurdy.

Ivan Showed Disdain
 Olga Cook, beautiful prima donna, warbled her sweetest to Ivan, the big Russian bear. Ivan gave Olga the once over and walked away, wearing a look suspiciously like disgust. Next Bertram Peacock, a silver-throated tenor, tremoloed all over the lot, where the buffalo herd was grazing. Witnesses said the bison never missed a munch. Then Irving Mellis, violinist, tried jazz music. Khar-toum, the big elephant, looked up languorously, sighed and went back into his mood of thoughtful repose.

The next stop was the monkey-house. A rehearsal of the same stunts never disturbed the equanimity of the playful simians, who continued the all-important business of hunting fleas.

Big Fellow Sleeps On
 At the snake-house the singers were more hopeful of results. But they couldn't get a rise out of the cobra, and the big rattler continued snoozing despite the singer's highest notes.

When Gabong, the orang, was brought out he clung to the zoo keeper with one arm about his neck and looked reproachfully at the singers. "What have I done to deserve this?" he seemed to say.

Vocally the musicale may have been a success; zoologically it was a tragic failure.

WOULD RESTRICT AUTOISTS
 PARIS—M. Georges Lemarchand, municipal councillor of Paris, has written the prefect of police requesting that strict measures be taken to prevent the noise made by automobiles either with their engines or horns, also smoke from the exhaust and mud splashing by the wheels.

"Why not suppress automobiles completely in Paris?" wrote a Parisian when he read of M. Lemarchand's letter.

GLENDALE WILL DO MORE THAN SHARE FOR RED CROSS

City Will Reach Quota, Then Go Over Top; Great Work of Organization Told

Glendale's quota in the present Red Cross drive is $2000 at least, according to Mrs. C. L. Peckham of 615 North Central avenue, chairman of the roll call who has headquarters every day from 9 until 3 o'clock at the Brand boulevard branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings bank.

One hundred and ninety-six chapters in the Pacific Division of the American Red Cross are now conducting the Fifth Roll Call. Membership dues vary from one to a hundred dollars are solicited from every adult citizen throughout the country.

The American Red Cross stands pledged to fulfill to the utmost its obligation to the ex-service men of the World War. It is desired to keep its service to the fighting forces of the nation in camps and hospitals intact in peace times.

The Pacific Division of the American Red Cross led all other divisions in its enrollment in the Fourth Roll Call, 1920. Membership secured last year represented 13.5 per cent of the census population in the district.

The Red Cross believes that there is work to be done here at home as well as abroad in combating misery, sickness and disease.

Thirty-five health centers have been established in the Pacific Division of the Red Cross. There are 264 of them in the United States.

Signs of the Times

Most unique of all is the center soon to be opened in Red Bluff, California, in an old saloon. The sign outside reading "Beer, 5 Cents a Glass" will soon say "Bring Your Babies for a Specialist's Advice." The former cigar stand will soon display free literature on family affairs.

The Juvenile auxiliary of the Glendale Music club recently at the Intermediate school building. Miss Mildred Pray, Mrs. E. K. Kent and Mrs. Jackson, directors of the auxiliary, were present.

Given Every Attention

Shortly after noon the rescue ship arrived. The survivors ranged in age from a babe of three months to a woman of 76. Those able to walk were shown to the waiting automobiles which bore them away to the various hotels. The injured and helpless were carried on stretchers to ambulances.

Among other chapters in the Pacific Division which have handled relief situations during the past few months are Yuba-Sutter, which aided seventy-five families following a fire. This division sent $12,000 to the victims of the Pueblo flood. The fund which the entire organization contributed amounted to over $350,000.

For Starving Europe

A total of 46,600 pounds of clothing contributed by over 160 American communities has been received at Brooklyn, New York, ready for shipment to needy Europe. The bulk of it is for children who are reported to be in pitiful need.

The Pacific Division is pledged to make 22,000 layettes as part of the 250,000 garments as its share of the 2,000,000 garments promised this year to Central European countries. Home hygiene classes have been organized in many schools as part of the regular work at the instigation of the Red Cross.

New York, in 1856, bought the 843 acres of barren rocks and stagnant swamps which is now Central park, at an average price of $7,300 an acre.

Big Husband Spanked by Light Little Woman

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—To be spanked by his wife, who tips the scales at 125 pounds, proved too great a humiliation for 390-pound C. K. Spiers, a well-to-do merchant of Manitou, Col., and he has filed suit for divorce against Nora Spiers, alleged lightweight champion "cave-woman."

In her answer to the complaint Mrs. Spiers declares that Spiers is the Jack Dempsey of the family and that he patted her a couple on the chin several times, each time sending her down for the count.

Mrs. Spiers also charges that her husband took all her clothes, even to the unmentionables, locked them in a trunk and then took the key with him to prevent her from seeing an attorney.

In her complaint she says that her husband is worth $50,000 and asks for alimony and attorney's fees. Spiers is rated as one of the largest men in the state of Colorado.

Women's Feet Getting Smaller Every Year?

LOS ANGELES—Women's feet are getting smaller every year, according to southern California merchants who sell shoes—and they ought to know.

A Santa Barbara dealer sponsored the first announcement of this interesting revelation. Los Angeles shoe merchants say he's right.

And the reason? It's the ubiquitous automobile. As the purring cars multiply in number women take fewer and fewer steps. Their toes no longer are subjected to the strain of pounding the gravel all day long.

The length of a woman's foot is a matter of heredity," said one dealer. "The width of her foot depends upon exercise, however. It is natural, therefore, that the tendency for several years has been for women's feet to get smaller—that is, narrower."

In proportion to population the United States has 13 times as many automobiles as Great Britain.

JAPANESE COMMENT ON HUGHES' PLANS VERY FAVORABLE

American Program Is Lauded Beyond Expectations by Newspapers of Japan

By DUKE N. PARRY
Written for International News Service
TOKYO, Nov. 18.—The acceptance of the Hughes disarmament program in principle by Japan's delegates to the Washington conference is approved generally by the Tokyo press. The comment on the Hughes proposals to date has been unexpectedly favorable. While insisting that the question of the ratio existing between the United States, Great Britain and Japan, and the problem of naval bases must be brought up, the American program has been lauded beyond the fondest expectation of observers. Acceptance as the program stands is urged rather than refusal because of any technicality.

The Jiji Shimpo, Asahi Shimbun, Hochi Shimbun and the Osaka Mainichi Shimbun, leaders of the press, have given unqualified praise to the proposals, although pointing out minor changes believed advisable.

Called Great Sacrifice

"The proposals so far testify amply to the American sincerity," said Jiji, "distinguishing the present conference from any other ever held. Great Britain and Japan must support the program basically."

"Like sacrifices that Japan is called upon to make in sacrificing her beautiful battleships, the Mutsu, Kaga and Tosa, have never been known," said the Osaka Mainichi. "They are very near the hearts of the people of Japan, but Japan must make up her mind to do so."

The Chugai and Yoroze are more reserved in their comment, the former declaring it "would be meaningless to suspend naval construction," and demanding that "America permit us to keep a naval power near or equal to theirs."

Stocks have been unaffected by the proposals on the Tokyo, Yokohama and Osaka exchanges.
